

THE RESPONSIBLE SOURCING COALITION (RESCO)
FOR MINERALS AND METALS

SOURCING WITH IMPACT AND VISION

Consumers, investors, and civil society are demanding increased visibility and responsible sourcing of products. This is no longer a challenge for only consumer-facing companies and brands to address, but for all participants in the value chain.

DO YOU WANT TO JOIN FELLOW INNOVATORS?

RESCO is a collaborative group of future-thinkers from every part of the minerals value chain. We exist to redefine what it means to source responsibly and provide a unique platform to unpack the pathways, partnerships and actions needed to shape sustainable mineral value chains committed to social value generation. RESCO puts people and communities at its center.

We aspire to accelerate a mineral value chain free from structural inequality, shaped by community values and moved from a mindset of risk management to one of long-term value creation.

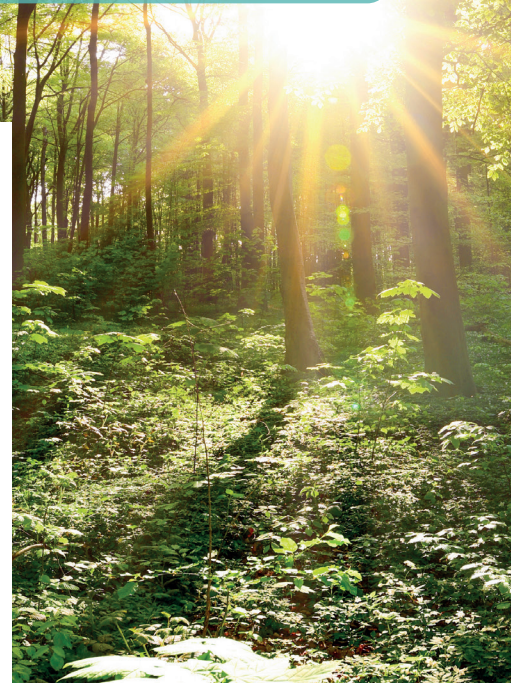

RESCO is a forum for deep engagement, learning and discovery. Our participants come from all corners of the mining ecosystem, from impacted communities to investors to consumer-facing companies.

A SOURCE OF INFORMATION & KNOWLEDGE

RESCO is a source of information and knowledge to help navigate the complexity of responsible sourcing.

RESCO is a space for connecting with actors in the value chain typically disconnected from one another.

RESCO is about taking collective action to accelerate impact-driven responsible sourcing of minerals and metals from all over the world.
